DETAILED ACTION

The restriction set forth in the first Office action between the species in figures 1 and 2 is herein repeated and made final. Note the claim groupings for the newly added claims are set forth by applicants in their remarks. Also note the examiner's position regarding this grouping set forth below.

Claims 14-17 and 23 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 01/18/06.

Note claim 23 sets forth that the plurality of diverting pulleys and traction sheave are in the same plane. This is the species in figure 2 not the species in figure 1.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9-13, 18-22, 24 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over PCT application WO 00/446664 in view of Janovsky.

It would have been obvious to add diverging pulleys and rope runs in the device in the PCT reference to enhance the mechanical advantage of the motor in view of the teaching in Janovsky (figures 3.4 and 3.5).

Regarding claim 11, note pulley 5 in figure 3 of the PCT reference.

Regarding claim 12, note pulley 5 in figure 2 of the PCT reference.

Regarding claim 13, the orientation of the added diverging pulleys would be an obvious matter of design and/or choice. Note the PCT reference, page 6, lines 19-29.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
